Vineyard
Springhill Vineyard, Macclesfield, Adelaide Hills. IBY clone planted on own roots. Elevation 340–350m, west aspect. Grey clay-loam with ironstone gravel over a red clay base. Spur pruned, VSP, permanent cordon with multiple lifting wires. Conventionally farmed with drip irrigation.

"The Adelaide Hills is fast becoming synonymous with high-quality Grüner Veltliner. We've taken this one step further and focused on two individual vineyard expressions of this sophisticated variety.

The warmer of the two sites, the Springhill Vineyard in Macclesfield, sits at a slightly lower elevation, which shows in more overt characters and a richer, fuller weight, enhanced by an element of skin fermentation and oak maturation."
