

Name	Variety
Blood of Jupiter	Sangiovese
Vintage	Region
2019	McLaren Vale

Nose

Morello cherries, blood orange rind, a sprinkle of cloves and hint of vanilla custard, with the earthy tones of cured leather and tobacco.

Palate

The softness of the wine is balanced with the playfully chewy structure and the length just keeps on going with spiced cherries and brandy snaps.

Pair

Porchetta, steak or gamey meats. Baked mushrooms and eggplant.

Style

McLaren Vale Sangiovese is in a league of its own - no other region can boast of such fruit generosity and ripeness of tannins like the Vale. We fully destem the bunches and plunge the ferment to retain the purity of the fruit that easily swallows up the 20% Italian coopered new french oak that it matures in.

There's something about Sangiovese that is so bloody seductive and enticing. Whether it's the fresh sour cherry flavours or the aromas of soft spice that speak to you, this bottle of gods blood exhibits McLaren Vale's capacity to produce interesting and attractive wines.
